

RedTeam-Net

The host is able to remote into the Jump box via SSH, from there the host can attach a docker image to move into the ansible machine to access the ELK server.

From my public IP I am able to access kibana through port 5601

The arrows from the load balancer display http traffic to the web servers.

The arrows from the web servers indicate filebeat and metric beat data being sent to the ELK server.